

Do you want to join StreamHPC?

As of this month Stream exists 8 years. 8 full years of helping our customers with fast software. In Chinese numerology 8 is a very lucky number, and we notice that.

Over the years we've kept focus on quality and that was a good decision. The only problem is that we don't have enough time to write on the blog, to organise events or even send the "monthly" newsletter. With over 200 drafts for the blog (subjects that really should be shared), we need extra people to help us out.

Dear developers who are good with C,C++, OpenCL/CUDA and algorithms, please take a look at the following vacancies. I know you are frequenting our blog.

We're also seeking an all-rounder that supports in daily operations, that includes management, customer contact, team-support, etc.

See below for more details.
